There was a dragon

There was a dragon long ago, long ago, long ago.

There was a dragon long ago, long, long ago.

The dragon lived all alone, all alone, all alone.

The dragon lived all alone, long, long ago.

The dragon wanted to make a friend, make a friend, make a friend.

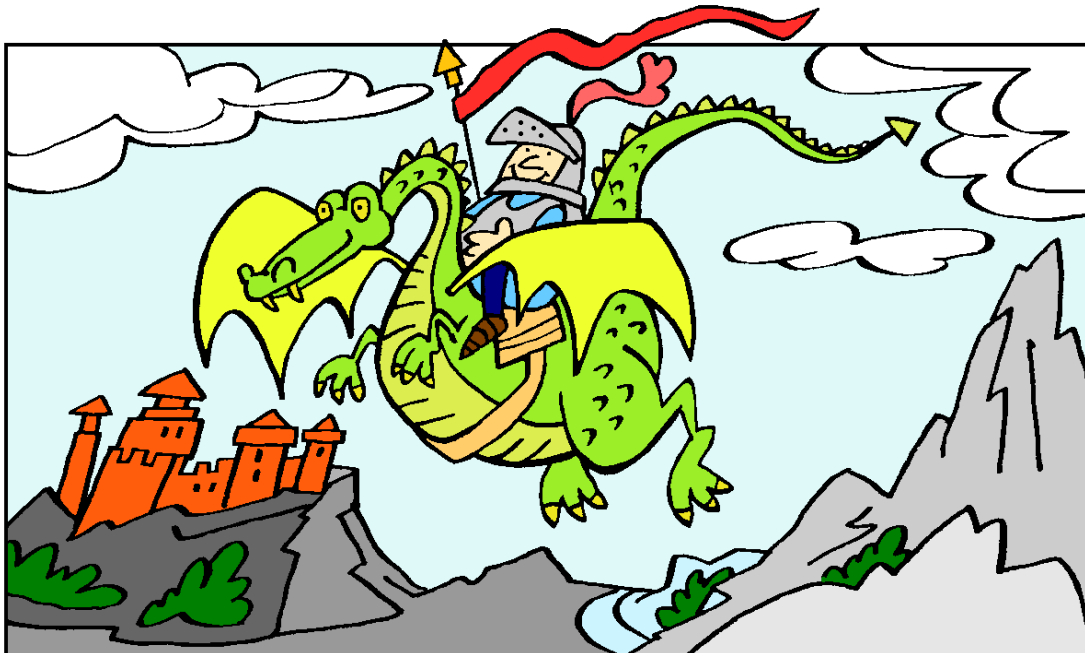

The dragon wanted to make a friend, long, long ago.

So he helped a knight to save the king, save the king, save the king.

He helped a knight to save the king, long, long ago.

The knight and dragon became friends, became friends, became friends.

The knight and dragon became friends, long, long ago.

There was a farmer

There was a farmer long ago, long ago, long ago.

There was a farmer long ago, long, long ago.

He lived in a big farm house, a big farm house, a big farm house.

He lived in a big farm house, long, long ago.

A big bush fire came along, came along, came along.

A big bush fire came along, long, long ago.

He pumped the water from the dam, from the dam, from the dam.

He pumped the water from the dam, long, long ago.

He saved the farm house, just in time, just in time, just in time.

He saved the farm house, just in time, long, long ago.
