Letter from Wilma 4

Hi friends,

My friend and I loved watching the clouds so much at the beach that we went for a big walk out in the country to look at more clouds. The best part about cloud watching is that it's something you can enjoy doing anywhere, anytime! There sure were some beautiful ones to see. My friend took this photo of me doing my new favourite activity.

I am still keeping my weather table. On the news last night the weather forecast was for rain on the weekend. I haven't been able to record any rain symbols yet so I hope it does rain. Then I can get out my new umbrella too!

I hope you are getting lots of different weather where you live?

Your friend, Wilma the Weather Wombat
